“ It's hard for me to believe that it is almost 48 years since I met you. I still remember the first time you came over when I was spending the night. You brushed my long hair out after my shower. I remember so many things about our times together, endless Sunday afternoon car rides to nowhere, always trying to convince Dad to eat out somewhere instead of having a sandwich at home, taking Eric and I trick or treating and convincing us to do the entire Green Acres and then letting us eat so much candy, shopping for hours at Hess's downtown, vacations to Florida, buying me my first makeup set, bugging Eric and I to give you one or two or five lucky numbers for the lottery, making your coffee just the way you liked it when you came into the bakery, always making sure that Eric and I had the same number and type of Christmas presents, holding my girls for the first time, cheering Sage on at football, your face when Bud scraped the side of the minivan on the column in the parking garage, watching your relationship with my mom grow over the years and continue after dad was gone and so many other little and big things. I am glad you are at peace now and with dad. I wish I could be there but I know you would want me to be just where I am this weekend. Give my dad a big hug from me.

Love, Kathy

Thinking of all her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren today. Wishing you all peace. Our thoughts are with you . Bud, Kathy and girls
