“ I never knew this Man while he was alive. I wish I did. But it wasn't until I learned from his friends and family that this very man is everything a Human being should be. He was Smart and he was funny. He cared for his family and he cared for his friends- most importantly he cared for this country. He inspired me and others in his family to show that same love.
I can say confidently that I believe his legacy shall live on in the children he raised, and the ones he didn't.
God bless, and may he rest in peace.
